

OPERATIONAL REPORTING

This manual implements AFRPD 10-2, Readiness. It establishes and describes the Air Force Operational Reporting System (AFOREPS). Part 1 introduces the general concept of the AFOREPS and covers reporting policies and command reporting responsibilities. Part 2 deals with Operational Status Reports. It explains the purpose and gives instructions for preparing and submitting these reports. Part 3 covers Operational Support Monitoring Reports. It explains the purpose and gives instructions for preparing and submitting these reports. Send recommended changes, additions, deletions, or new reports and any conflict or duplication of other reports to HQ USAF/XOOOE, 1480 Air Force Pentagon, Washington, D.C. 20330-1480. Commands should supplement this Air Force Manual (AFMAN) instead of repeating instructions in separate directives. Send HQ USAF/XOOOE one copy of directives (to include drafts) that support or implement the AFOREPS. Waiver authority for this manual is HQ USAF/XOO.

(AFRES) This supplement implements and extends the guidance of Air Force Manual (AFMAN) 10-206, 1 September 1995. The AFMAN is printed word-for-word without editorial review. Air Force Reserve supplementary material is indicated by "(AFRES)" in boldface type. This supplement describes Air Force Reserve procedures to be used in conjunction with the basic instruction. Upon receipt of this integrated supplement discard the Air Force basic.

PART 1GENERAL CONCEPTS, POLICIES, AND RESPONSIBILITIES*Chapter 1*INTRODUCTION TO AIR FORCE OPERATIONAL REPORTING SYSTEM (AFOREPS)

1.1. Concept of the AFOREPS. The set of reports that make up the AFOREPS provide HQ USAF and intermediate commands the information necessary for timely operational decisions. Major commands (MAJCOM) will integrate their reporting systems into AFOREPS, thereby allowing easy lateral and vertical transfer of information.

1.2. Reporting Instructions and Principles. The following instructions and principles apply to the AFOREPS:

1.2.1. AFOREPS reports draw information from numerous sources (for example, personnel, materiel, equipment status, operations and logistics planning, situation monitoring, and intelligence) and give decision makers a concise picture of events. The main criterion for inclusion in the AFOREPS system is that the report is essential for command and control of aerospace forces.

1.2.2. Commands with both an Air Force and a joint or combined reporting requirement (for example, air component commands) should use the AFOREPS report if possible and address to both chains instead of separate reports.

1.2.3. Annually, MAJCOMs will review established operational reports to simplify or eliminate reports. They review new requirements to determine operational necessity or whether other existing sources can accommodate them.

1.3. Command Reporting Responsibilities:

1.3.1. Commanders, operating the command post, are responsible for timely and accurate reporting for all assigned or attached units, as well as units staging through their facilities.

1.3.2. Commanders, operating the command post, will ensure base units' reports are sent to their proper headquarters. Establish procedures to down-channel reports to appropriate units.

1.3.3. MAJCOM, direct reporting unit (DRU), United States Air Force Reserve (USAFR), and Air National Guard (ANG) personnel develop instructions to implement this manual to ensure timely, accurate reporting of information.

1.3.4. Air components will include HQ USAF as an action addressee on AFOREPS.

1.4. Authority and References:

1.4.1. Authority. This manual includes the requirements of the various documents of the Joint Reporting System. Air Force units use it as the primary source for reporting instructions. Later chapters identify reference materials for specific reports.

1.4.2. Emergency Status Codes (ESC). These codes serve as a guide for reporting under emergency conditions. Each chapter reflects the ESC assigned to required report. AFI 37-124, Management and Control of Information Reports' Requirements (formerly AFR 4-38) prescribes

ESC.

- C1 - Continue reporting, priority. Submit data requirements assigned this category as prescribed or by any means to ensure arrival on the established due dates.
- C2 - Continue reporting, normal. Submit data requirements in this category as prescribed, or as soon as possible after submission of priority reports.
- C3 - Continue reporting, delayed. Submit data requirements as prescribed, but they may be delayed to allow the submission of higher precedence reports. Submit by non-electronic means if possible.
- D - Discontinue reporting. Immediately discontinue reporting data requirements.

1.4.3. Chapter 5 is exempt from report licensing as defined in AFI 37-124. HQ USAF Report Control Symbol (RCS) numbers follow the title of each report.

Chapter 2

GENERAL REPORTING INSTRUCTIONS

2.1. Security Classification and Downgrading Instructions. AFI 31-401, Information Security Program Management (formerly AFR 205-1), provides security classification and downgrading instructions.

2.1.1. Classify reports indicating unit combat readiness status according to AFI 10-201, Status of Resources and Training System (SORTS), (formerly AFR 55-15).

2.1.2. Classify reports containing:

- Information on a combat loss or damage or discussing combat mission results a minimum of SECRET.
- A complete inventory of nuclear weapons of one or more units a minimum of SECRET.
- Information on the deployment of combat aircraft, units, or personnel according to the appropriate deployment plans.
- Unit names and locations associated with a plan according to security instructions.

2.2. Transmitting Reports During Combat or Combat Related Operations. When combat or combat-related operational requirements make speed of delivery paramount, military commanders may modify transmission of classified information as necessary to meet local conditions. (When so doing, commanders will cite in the message "CJCSI 3150.03, Enclosure A, paragraph 4a," as the authority).

2.3. Flagword JOPREP JIFFY. The flagword JOPREP JIFFY identifies electrically transmitted command post-to-command post messages and operational reports, and notifies communications centers to route a message directly to the command and control facility. The flagword does not indicate a precedence for transmission within communications channels.

2.4. Operating in a Degraded Communications Environment. HQ USAF and MAJCOMs may suspend the submission of selected reports. MAJCOMs will advise HQ USAF immediately of any suspended AFOREPS reports.

2.5. Report Formats. Prepare reports using the specific formats and content information available in AFP 102-2, volume I, and as supplemented by this manual. When AFP 102-2, volume I, does not contain a specific format for the report, use the General Administration (GENADMIN) format with the report's name as the SUBJECT.

2.6. Correction of Reports. Transmit a Message Change

Report according to AFP 102-2, volume I.

PART 2

OPERATIONAL STATUS REPORTS

Chapter 3

EVENT/INCIDENT REPORT (OPREP-3) (RCS: HAF-XOO(AR)7118)

3.1. Subject and Purpose. OPREP-3 reports use command and control channels to notify commanders immediately of any event or incident which may attract international, national, US Air Force, or significant news media interest. They do not replace the requirement for more detailed reports such as the Aircrew/Aircraft Loss Report (LOSREP), the Commander's Situation Report (SITREP), and accident or incident investigation reports. Submitting an OPREP-3 report neither changes, nor substitutes for, any report required by other directives. Conversely, submit the applicable OPREP-3 regardless of whether or not the event is being reported through other channels.

3.2. Reference Materials. Chairman Joint Chiefs of Staff Instruction (CJCSI) 3150.03.

3.3. Report Categories. OPREP-3 reports categorize events or incidents according to their nature. Flagwords associated with each category aid prompt transmission, processing, and distribution of the reports by alerting people to their importance. The following flagworded reports make up the OPREP-3 system.

3.3.1. PINNACLE (OPREP-3P) reports provide information to the National Command Authorities, National Military Command Center (NMCC), and appropriate commanders on any incident or event of national level interest which does not require notification using other OPREP-3 reports. This report is not restricted to operational information and covers a wide range of occurrences with actual or potential international repercussions or which could seriously change current operations. Consider an event or incident reportable if it:

- Generates a higher level of military action.
- Causes a national reaction.
- Affects international relationships.
- Causes immediate widespread coverage in news media.

- Is clearly against the national interest.
- Affects current national policy.

NOTE: Submit an OPREP-3 PINNACLE report if there is any doubt an event or incident is, or could be, of interest to the White House, Department of Defense (DoD), the Joint Staff, or news media.

3.3.2. PINNACLE NUCFLASH (OPREP-3PNF) reports the actual or possible detonation of a nuclear weapon which risks the outbreak of nuclear war. This report has the highest precedence in the OPREP-3 reporting structure. Report any of the following:

- Accidental, unauthorized, or unexplained nuclear detonation or possible detonation.
- Accidental or unauthorized launch of a nuclear-armed or nuclear-capable missile in the direction of, or having the capability to reach another nuclear-capable country.
- Unauthorized flight of, or deviation from, an approved flight plan by a nuclear armed or nuclear-capable aircraft with the capability to penetrate the airspace of another nuclear-capable country.
- Detection of unidentified objects by a missile warning system or interference (experienced by such a system or related communications) that appears threatening and could create a risk of nuclear war.

3.3.3. PINNACLE FRONT BURNER (OPREP-3PFB) reports any pre-conflict occurrence having the potential of escalating into a contingency or general war situation, such as armed attack on or harassment of US forces.

3.3.4. PINNACLE BROKEN ARROW (OPREP-3PBA) reports an accidental event involving nuclear weapons or nuclear components but does not create the risk of nuclear war. Report the following:

- Nuclear detonation.
- Non-nuclear detonation or burning of a nuclear weapon.
- Radioactive contamination.
- Jettisoning of a nuclear weapon or nuclear component.
- Public hazard, actual or implied.

3.3.5. PINNACLE EMPTY QUIVER (OPREP-3PEQ) reports the seizure, theft, or loss of a nuclear weapon or nuclear component.

3.3.6. PINNACLE EMERGENCY DISABLEMENT (OPREP-3PED) reports those operations involving the command disablement or nonviolent disablement of a nuclear weapon.

3.3.7. PINNACLE EMERGENCY EVACUATION (OPREP-3PEV) reports the evacuation of nuclear weapons.

3.3.8. BENT SPEAR (OPREP-3BS) reports those incidents involving nuclear weapons that are of significant interest but are not categorized as PINNACLE NUCFLASH OR PINNACLE BROKEN ARROW.

3.3.9. FADED GIANT (OPREP-3FG) reports nuclear reactor and or radiological accidents and incidents. While these events do not involve nuclear weapons, they are of vital interest to all levels of government.

3.3.10. BEELINE (OPREP-3B) reports any incident or event where Air Force level interest is indicated but not requiring PINNACLE-level OPREP-3 reports. Although the report normally remains within US Air Force channels, commanders may add other addressees, as appropriate to avoid duplicate reporting. HQ USAF may make BEELINE information available to agencies outside the Air Force (for example, NMCC, State Department) based on the situation.

3.3.10.1. (Added) (AFRES) Off DZ Airdrop incident reporting. Off DZ Airdrops incident is identified as an OPREP-3 BEELINE (OPREP-3B) reportable incident when criteria contained in AFMAN 10-206 are met.

3.3.10.1.1. (Added) (AFRES) Submit a record copy BEELINE report not later than 0700Z following the OFF DZ Airdrop.

3.3.10.2. (Added) (AFRES) Attachment 3 contains specific reporting requirements for Off DZ Airdrops.

3.3.10.3. (Added) (AFRES) Later investigation of Off

DZ Airdrop incidents may be necessary to determine all the facts; timely collection and reporting of the facts (prior to the crew entering rest, if possible) is critical.

3.3.10.4. (Added) (AFRES) When BEELINE criteria is met, submit an additional detailed report of Off DZ Airdrop incidents within seven calendar days.

3.3.10.5. (Added) (AFRES) Hurricane Evacuation (HURREVAC). AFMAN 10-206, table 3.1, rule 11b requires three OPREP-3 BEELINE reports for aircraft evacuation:

3.3.10.5.1. (Added) (AFRES) When hurricane/typhoon condition is declared.

3.3.10.5.2. (Added) (AFRES) Evacuation stage set (planned or actual) to include evacuation/hanging plan for all assigned, deployed, or transient aircraft.

3.3.10.5.3. (Added) (AFRES) Return to home base.

3.3.10.6. (Added) (AFRES) Units contact AFRES Airlift Scheduling through the Command Center for HURREVAC airlift support requests. With implementation of guidance provided in the basic reporting manual, AFRES Command Center and AFRES/DOOM (airlift scheduling) have the capability to provide airlift redeployment assistance to AFRES flying units when requested. Without implementation of the guidance provided, we have no indication of what type of support is needed.

3.3.11. HOMELINE (OPREP-3H) reports incidents or vents which do not merit HQ USAF attention but which are of interest to the MAJCOM. Although these reports are not addressed to HQ USAF, they are part of the AFOREPS program and will use the same basic format. MAJCOMs determine specific reporting requirements and procedures for the HOMELINE report. ANG units report HOMELINE-level information to ANG Readiness Center, unless federalized or mobilized.

3.4. OPREP-3 Reports Matrix. The OPREP-3 Reports Matrix (table 3.1) is a quick reference guide to assist users in determining the type of report to submit. The matrix provides broad guidance and is not all-inclusive. Judgment on the part of local commanders is essential to proper reporting. Base the level of report on whether or not the event or incident will attract national-level interest or if it is of interest only to HQ USAF or a MAJCOM.

- If national-level interest is indicated, submit an OPREP-3 PINNACLE.
- If HQ USAF interest is indicated, submit an OPREP-3 BEELINE.

- If only MAJCOM interest is indicated, submit an OPREP-3 HOMELINE.

3.5. Command Responsibilities. Due to the time sensitivity of OPREP-3 information, report each event or incident as promptly and accurately as possible. If there is doubt, report the event or incident. Units at all levels will develop procedures to quickly obtain and report the key elements of an OPREP-3 report.

3.5.1. (Added) (AFRES) Air Force Reserve units that are tenants on active duty bases make a report to the AFRES Command Center in addition to the normal base reporting channels and advise the AFRES Command Center whether or not the base command post is providing upchannel reporting.

3.5.2. (Added) (AFRES) Units with a command and control element or operations section instead of an established command post upchannel all reports directly to the AFRES Command Center, which then conferences all other necessary or command echelons. Initial reporting is via voice followed by record copy.

3.5.3. (Added) (AFRES) Commanders of AFRES bases and associate units ensure immediate submission of OPREP-3 reports for all significant events/incidents, actual or probable, of a military or political nature which involve or may involve any AFRES activity or personnel. The senior commander of AFRES units tenanted on bases of other commands furnishes the host commander details of the event/incident for inclusion in the host commander's OPREP-3 report. This information is furnished to the host commander and also relayed immediately to the AFRES Command Center, located at Headquarters Air Force Reserve, Robins AFB GA, ATTN: HQ AFRES/DOOC, by the most expeditious means. Supplement initial reports as additional information becomes available. Dispose of reports according to AFI 37-138 (formerly AFR 12-50) Disposition of Records.

3.5.4. (Added) (AFRES) Within the Air Force Reserve command, OPREP-3 HOMELINE report format and contents are as follows:

3.5.4.1. (Added) (AFRES) Subject and Purpose. Provides specific reporting instruction, report content, and sample reports for the OPREP-3 HOMELINE.

3.5.4.2. (Added) (AFRES) Use the flagword HOMELINE to identify events or incidents of interest only to HQ AFRES.

3.5.4.3. (Added) (AFRES) The report is submitted through, and normally remains within Air Force Reserve channels; however, other addresses outside AFRES channels may be added as appropriate.

3.6. Report Submission. The lowest level of command having knowledge of an event or incident submits the OPREP-3 report.

3.6.1. Pass voice reports to the Air Force Operations Support Center (AFOSC), through the parent MAJCOM, using voice formats in AFP 102-2, volume I. AFOSC will ensure NMCC receives the appropriate reported information. Contact the AFOSC at the numbers in table 3.2.

3.6.1.1. (Added) (AFRES) Submit HOMELINE reports to the AFRES Command Center (HQ AFRES/DOOC). Initiate HOMELINE reports as soon as the event/incident becomes known. Do not delay the report to gain additional information.

3.6.1.2. (Added) (AFRES) In many cases, the HOMELINE report is followed by reports required in other directives. The submission of a HOMELINE does not substitute for or change reports required by other directives. Submit the HOMELINE regardless of whether the event/incident has been or will be reported through other channels.

3.6.1.3. (Added) (AFRES) Reporting an incident that seemed significant at the time but later is deemed insignificant will not be criticized. When the event/incident is subsequently determined as not OPREP-3 reportable, make appropriate upchannel notification.

3.6.1.4. (Added) (AFRES) Precedence. Immediate precedence for voice and record reports; however, FLASH may be used if the situation warrants. Submit HOMELINES by the most rapid means available which provides the necessary security protection.

3.6.1.5. (Added) (AFRES) Submit voice reports to:

3.6.1.5.1. (Added) (AFRES) AFRES Command Center, DSN 497-0680 or 431-3921, or commercial (912) 327-0680. NOTE: AFRES Command Center initiates the voice report to the gaining MAJCOM (as appropriate).

3.6.1.5.2. (Added) (AFRES) Wing and NAF (as applicable).

3.6.1.6. (Added) (AFRES) Submit record reports to:

3.6.1.6.1. (Added) (AFRES) Action: HQ AFRES Robins AFB GA//DOOC//.

3.6.1.6.2. (Added) (AFRES) Info: NAF/DO/DOQC, Parent Wing/DO/DOC, gaining MAJCOM/DO/DOC (for aircraft related incidents only), others as appropriate.

3.6.1.6.3. (Added) (AFRES) For AFRES OPREP-3 HOMELINES only: Units will NOT address HQ USAF/REO on the record report. HQ USAF/REO will be notified by HQ AFRES/DOOC via other channels.

3.6.1.7. (Added) (AFRES) Sample Reports:

3.6.1.7.1. (Added) (AFRES) Voice Reports. See attachment 4 of this supplement.

3.6.1.7.2. (Added) (AFRES) Record Reports. Follow

Reporting guidance provided in AFP 102-2, volume I, and AFMAN 10-206.

3.6.1.7.3. (Added) (AFRES) Before mobilization, OPREP-3 BEELINE and PINNACLE include information addressees HQ USAF/REO, HQ

AFRES/DOOC, appropriate NAF/DO/DOC, parent wing/DO/DOC, and gaining command/advisory unit/DO/DOC. Post mobilization, AFRES-retained units continue to address HQ USAF/REO, HQ AFRES/DOOC, appropriate NAF/DO/DOC, and parent wing/DO/DOC.

Red Switch	228-2300	228-2311	NA

3.6.2. Intermediate levels of command will immediately pass the report to subordinate or lateral commands which need the information.

3.6.3. Rapid reporting is imperative. Do not delay an initial report for lack of information. Use followup reports to provide additional information when it becomes available. Due to the extremely time sensitive nature of the PINNACLE NUCFLASH report, transmit these voice reports no later than 5 minutes after learning of the event.

3.6.4. Transmit OPREP-3 reports by the fastest means available consistent with security constraints: usually by nonsecure voice transmission, followed by a confirming record transmission. Transmit reports containing classified or special intelligence information with the proper security precautions. Include the flagword JOPREP JIFFY after the classification on all OPREP-3 messages.

3.6.5. Transmit record copy reports within 1 hour of initial voice report. Include information from update voice reports within the first hour of initial voice report in the initial record copy report.

3.6.6. Note that the OPREP-3 PINNACLE NUCFLASH takes precedence over all other OPREP-3 reports. Any actual OPREP-3 report takes precedence over all peacetime exercise communications. Table 3.3 covers other typical message precedence information.

3.6.7. Transmit during MINIMIZE.

3.6.8. Use the ESC C1 designator - Continue reporting, priority.

3.7. Report Format and Contents:

3.7.1. AFP 102-2, volume I, gives specific format information for OPREP-3 reporting. For the OPREP-3

BEELINE and HOMELINE reports, use the format contained in AFP 102-2, volume I, OPREP-3 PINNACLE Annex, with the flagwords BEELINE or HOMELINE and the letter "B" or "H" substituted for PINNACLE and P, where applicable.

3.7.1. (Added) (AFRES) Report Content. This is a narrative report. AFP 102-2, volume I, gives specific format information for OPREP-3 reporting.

3.7.1.1. (Added) (AFRES) Process all OPREP-3 HOMELINE, BEELINE, and PINNACLE voice reports through HQ AFRES Command Center, DSN 431-3921 or 497-0680. The AFRES Command Center conferences NMCC, AFOSC, and other MAJCOMS, as required. In the event AFRES Command Center is communication-out, units voice their reports directly to AFOSC or NMCC, as appropriate. Applicable units telephonically back-brief NAFs and wings as soon as possible.

3.7.2. The narrative section of each report must clearly convey the details of the incident. Use figure 3.1 and figure 3.1.1 to assist in gathering and reporting incident details.

3.7.2.1. (Added) (AFRES) Use attachment 5 to assist in determining HOMELINE reportable events/incidents.

3.8. Report Numbering. Number OPREP-3 reports consecutively for the calendar year beginning with 001. Subsequent reports for the same incident will add sequential letters to the basic report number (for example, 002A, 002B). After the number 999, revert to 001 for the next report.

3.9. Exercise Reports. Number exercise reports independently of "real world" reports using the same OPREP-3 formats. Begin exercise reports with 001 at the start of each exercise. Indicate exercise name in the EXER set of each report.

3.10. Followup Reports:

3.10.1. Followup reports are essential to keep commanders informed of developing situations and to provide additional details as they are learned.

3.10.2. Record copy followup or final reports may contain information previously provided by one or more voice reports. Continue reporting as long as the situation merits. When the immediacy of the OPREP-3 system subsides commanders may use SITREP reporting to provide continuous information. Include a reference to applicable voice and record copy reports in each additional record report.

NOTE: Advise higher headquarters controllers by voice of the date-time-group of the record copy message as soon as it is available.

3.11. Use of Personnel Identification. Do not include the name or social security number (SSN) of individuals in OPREP-3 reports. Rather, provide broad categories (for example, active duty, reserve, airman, noncommissioned (NCO), officer, dependent). If a report recipient requires names or SSN, request it as an addendum through separate channels.

3.12. Upgrading Reports. If later information indicates a higher-level report, upgrade it (for example, HOMELINE to BEELINE). To do this, the reporting unit sends a brief follow-up report identifying the basic incident and referencing earlier reports. The headquarters primarily addressed on earlier reports will notify higher levels and provide hard-copy reports. Send all follow-up reports to the proper levels.

4.7.3. Number reports on the same event sequentially beginning with 001. (Number exercise reports independently beginning with 001 at the start of each exercise and continuing sequentially until exercise termination).

GUIDE FOR SITREP REPORTING

General - Provide an overall mission review. Include a summary of changes to the location, designation, mission, readiness status, or Change of Operational Control (CHOP) of all assigned or attached forces. Provide any projected requirements for additional forces.

Situation - Provide a brief overall assessment of the situation to include circumstances or conditions which significantly affect the capability and readiness of your available forces.

Operations

During combat operations, include a brief description and results of both offensive and defensive operations during the reporting period. Also, summarize plans for operations during the next reporting period with objectives and expected enemy reaction. Outline plans to respond to anticipated hostile situations.

During peacetime operations, include actions taken to deal with the current situation and plans for responding to changes.

Identify actions or decisions which may be required by higher command levels.

Intelligence and Reconnaissance - Provide a brief overview of the situation, including operations, capabilities, order of battle, threat changes, or any significant intelligence information warranting dissemination via SITREP.

Logistics

Identify changes to capabilities or deficiencies affecting support for planned operations. Specifically address problem areas beyond the commander's or Service's capability to overcome or alleviate in a timely manner. (Commanders of Air Force components of unified or specified commands and US Air Force units participating in joint or combined operations will ensure logistical problems are forwarded through US Air Force channels for consideration and resolution before introduction into CINC/JCS channels.)

Report logistical problems by functional area and specify whether quantity, quality, or both, contribute to the problem. Problem areas include, but are not limited to: equipment sufficiency, maintenance, transportation, including specialized shipping and transportation facilities, services, contracting, civil engineering, and supply, such as special project emergency war order and contingency materials, ordnance, and war reserve stocks.

Do not detail significant logistical problem areas adequately addressed in separate logistic appraisals or in other reports (e.g., Petroleum Damage/Deficiency Report, critical spares report). However, reference applicable reports.

Communications and Connectivity - Identify significant changes to capability including key outages, incompatibilities, quantitative equipment deficiencies, traffic volume, etc.

Personnel - Identify factors affecting the readiness of forces and units and mobilization status. Include daily casualties (i.e., deceased, duty status-whereabouts unknown (DUSTWUN), missing, ill, or injured) using cumulative figures including changes from previously reported figures, impact of casualties sustained (i.e., critical skills, key personnel, etc.) on the commands' mission capability, and noncombatant evacuation operations proposed or implemented.

Include the following:

Summary information on personnel deployed to temporary duty (TDY) in support of the operation. Indicate the number by officers, enlisted, and civilians.

Summary information on data transmission capability/degradation (i.e., communications).

Personnel problems that exist and how they may or may not affect readiness and mission capability.

NOTE: Include HQ USAF WASHINGTON DC//DPXC//; AFMPC RANDOLPH AFB TX//PRC// and appropriate MAJCOM//DPX or MPX// as information addressees on all SITREPs involving personnel.

Significant Political, Military, and Diplomatic Events - Include events which could result in local, US, or international public reaction; results and decisions of key allied or other foreign government meetings; civil unrest or indications of civil defense measures contemplated or implemented; large-scale military exercises; events emphasizing interests of key segments of the society.

Commander or Service Chief's Evaluation - Summarize key points highlighting areas requiring NCA, the Joint Staff, or Air Staff action or decisions. Also, indicate implementation or intent to implement any Continuity of Operations Plans.

COMMUNICATIONS INSTRUCTIONS REPORTING VITAL INTELLIGENCE SIGHTINGS (CIRVIS)

5.1. Subject and Purpose. This report provides vital information to the security of the United States and Canada which, in the opinion of the observer, requires very urgent defensive action or investigation by the US and or Canadian Armed Forces.

5.2. Reference Materials. Joint Army, Navy, Air Force Publication (JANAP 146).

5.3. Submitted By. Any Air Force personnel.

5.4. Submitted To:

- Airborne reports: US or Canadian military or civilian communications facility.
- Post-landing reports: Commander in Chief, North American Aerospace Defense Command

5.5. When Submitted. As soon as possible after the intelligence sighting.

5.6. How Submitted. Reports are normally UNCLASSIFIED but handled as For Official Use Only.

5.6.1. Use the most rapid means of transmission available. For airborne reports use the same procedures as for air traffic control. When pilots cannot establish contact with a ground station, make maximum effort to relay the report via other aircraft.

5.6.2. To avoid delays while airborne, repeat the word CIRVIS three times before the message to preempt all other communications (except distress and urgency). If this fails to clear the frequencies, use the International Urgency Signal "PAN" spoken three times. For the ground relay of airborne reports or post-landing reports, use FLASH precedence.

5.6.3. Transmit during MINIMIZE.

5.6.4. Use the ESC C1 designator- Continue reporting, priority.

5.7. Reporting Instructions:

5.7.1. Facilities receiving CIRVIS reports will rapidly process and forward them as prescribed by JANAP 146.

5.7.2. Report all unidentifiable, suspicious, or hostile traffic (land, aerospace, or seaborne) which, because of its nature, course, or actions, considered a threat to the security of the United States or Canada. Such reporting extends the early warning defense system for the United States and Canada. There are five types of CIRVIS reports:

- Issue initial CIRVIS reports while airborne (or as warranted, upon landing).
- Issue post-landing CIRVIS reports if airborne reports made.
- Issue followup CIRVIS reports by anyone with additional information about an earlier report (refer to the initial report).

- Issue cancellation CIRVIS reports once sightings are positively identified as friendly or determined it was erroneously reported.
- Submit evaluation CIRVIS reports to each addressee of the above CIRVIS reports. Promptly submit evaluation reports to keep all interested parties fully informed.

5.7.3. Report the following specific sightings:

- Hostile or unidentified aircraft which appears directed against the United States, Canada, or their forces.
- Missiles.
- Unidentified flying objects.
- Hostile or unidentified military surface vessels or submarines.
- Any other individual surface vessels, submarines, or aircraft of unconventional design engaged in suspicious activity, observed in an unusual location, or on a course which may threaten the United States, Canada, or their forces.
- Any unexplained or unusual activity which may indicate a possible attack against or through Canada or the United States (includes the presence of any unidentified or suspicious ground parties in remote or sparsely populated areas, including the polar region).
- Unlisted airfields, facilities, weather stations, or air navigation aids.

5.7.4. Make every effort to document sightings with as many photographs as possible. Send undeveloped film or prints and negatives, with a brief written report and other identifying information to the Director of Naval Intelligence, Department of the Navy, Washington, DC 20305. The Department of the Navy will process the film and return one copy of each print and a roll of new film to the individual.

5.7.5. Use figure 5.1 and figure 5.1.1 to gather and report specific sighting details.

GUIDE FOR CIRVIS REPORTING

The CIRVIS report is a narrative report explaining the sighting. A specific format is not required. Provide as much specific detail as possible to aid decision makers in responding to the sighting. Include the following information if possible along with any other information which may be significant:

1. CIRVIS report identification.
2. Identification of the object(s) sighted.
 - a. For identifiable objects, include number and identification of the aircraft, vessel, missile, or individuals seen.
 - b. For unidentifiable objects, give a description including shape, size (compared to a known object e.g., pea, silver dollar, baseball, basketball, fighter aircraft, or C-5), number and formation, any discernible features or details (e.g., color, trail or exhaust, sound).
 - c. Include any observed identification (e.g., insignia, lettering, flags).
3. The position of the object. Include the date and time (GMT) of the sighting. This can be indicated by any of the following methods:
 - a. Latitude and longitude.
 - b. Over a radio fix.
 - c. True bearing and distance from a radio fix.
 - d. Over a well-known or well-defined geographic point.
4. Description of the course of the object:
 - a. Altitude.
 - b. Direction of travel.
 - c. Speed.
 - d. Description of flightpath and maneuvers.
 - e. What first called attention to the object.

 - b. Light conditions (use one of the following terms: night, day, dawn, dusk).
 - c. Weather conditions (ceiling, visibility, clouds, thunderstorms, temperature, winds, etc.).
- 7. Interception or identification action taken (if feasible, complying with existing directives).
- 8. Location, approximate altitude, and general direction of flight of any air traffic or balloon releases in the area which could possibly account for the sighting.
- 9. Preliminary analysis of the possible cause of the sightings.
- 10. Existence of physical evidence, such as materials and photographs.

13.1. Subject and Purpose:

13.1.1. TEMPEST RAPID reporting applies to US Air Force and CAP resources within CONUS. It provides a reporting system for those resources, including aircraft, used emergency relief operations in support of civil authorities.

13.1.1.1. (Added) (AFRES) The Air Force National Security Emergency Preparedness (AFNSEP) Division issues USAF mission designators to authorize Civil Air Patrol and validate USAF unit assistance to civil agencies during natural or man-made disasters. USAF mission designators are assigned consecutively at the start of each fiscal year. For example, the first mission designator in FY94 would be MD-1-94, the second would be MD-2-94, etc. The first in FY95 would be MD-1-95. During duty hours the AFNSEP Division can be contacted at DSN 572-4342/commercial 404-752-4342. After duty hours those requesting mission designators should contact the Forces Command watch officer who patches the caller through to the AFNSEP duty officer.

13.1.2. See AFI 10-802, Air Force Support During Disasters, for guidance on committing resources.

13.1.3. Report Categories:

- TEMPEST RAPID-I--Natural Disaster Resource Employment Report notifies Air Force National Security Emergency Preparedness Office (AFNSEP) of support activities.
- TEMPEST RAPID-II--Natural Disaster Relief Operations Report consolidates information provided in TEMPEST RAPID I reports.
- TEMPEST RAPID-III--Natural Disaster Relief Final Report summarizes complete support.

(Include reimbursable and non-reimbursable resources used, total cost, photographs, and any other significant data.)
